

UC 1 Start Game

Precondition: none.

Postcondition: the game menu is shown.

Main scenario

- 1.Starts when the user wants to begin a session of the hangman game.
- 2.The system presents the main menu with a title, the option to play and quit the game.
- 3.The Gamer makes the choice to start the game.
- 4.The system starts the game (see Use Case 2).

Repeat from step 2

Alternative scenarios

3.1 The Gamer makes the choice to quit the game.

- 1.The system quits the game (see Use Case 2)

4.1 Invalid menu choice

- 1.The system presents an error message.
- 2.Go to 2

UC 2 Play Game

Preconditions: The game is running and the main menu is displayed.

Main success scenario (Basic Flow)

1. The gamer chooses the option “Play game” in the menu.
2. The system ask for a name that the user wants to have in the game.
3. The gamer enters a name.
4. The system picks a word from a word list.
5. The system displays the word with the letters hidden.
6. The gamer guesses a letter.
7. The system replaces one or more of the underlines, where the guessed letter matches the hidden letter, with the correctly guessed letters.
8. The gamer guesses all the letters correctly.
9. The system displays that the gamer have won and returns to the menu.

Extensions (Alternatives Flows)

a. At any time the gamer wants to quit the game:

1. The gamer enters the command to quit the game.
2. The systems quits the game (see Use Case 3)

2-10b. The gamer wants to return to the menu:

1. The gamer enters the command to return to the menu.
2. The system prompts for confirmation.
 - 2a. The gamer confirms.
 1. The system returns too the menu.
 - 2b. The gamer does not confirm.
 1. The system returns to its previous state.

3a. The gamer enters a name that is too short or too long.

1. The system displays an error message and rejects the entry.
2. Go to 2.

6a. The gamer enters more than a single letter or none.

1. The system displays an error message and rejects the entry.
2. Go to 5.

7a. The letter guessed does not appear in the word picked.

1. The system adds to mistake counter.
2. The system displays a new part of the figure.

2a. The figure is not complete and mistake counter isn't full.

1. The systems tells the gamer that it was wrong.
2. Go to 6.

2b. The figure is complete and the mistake counter is full.

1. The system displays the figure.
2. The system asks if the gamer wants to return to menu or quit.

2a. The gamer enters menu command.

1. The system returns to the menu.

2b. The gamer enters quit command.

1. The systems quits the game (see Use Case 3)

UC 3 Quit Game

Precondition: The game is running.

Postcondition: The game is terminated.

Main scenario

- 1.Starts when the user wants to quit the game.
- 2.The system prompts for confirmation.
- 3.The user confirms.
- 4.The system terminates.

Alternative scenarios

3.1. The user does not confirm

- 1.The system returns to its previous state

UC 4 Check High-Scores

Precondition: The game is running and the menu is shown.

Postcondition: The high-score list is shown.

Main scenario

1. The gamer chooses the high-score option.
2. The system fetches list from a file and displays it in the console.
3. The gamer chooses to go back to the menu.
4. The system enters the main menu again.

Extensions (Alternatives Flows)

2a. The high-score file is empty.

1. The system prompts a message about empty list.
2. The gamer chooses to go back to the main menu.
3. The system enters the main menu.

2b. There is no high-score file.

1. The system creates a json file to keep the high-scores in.
2. Go to alternative flow 2a.

3a. The gamer wants quits the game

1. The gamer enters command for quitting the game.
2. The systems quits the game (see Use Case 3)

